INTRODUCTION

Constitutional and statutory provisions require voters to authorize general obligation (GO) bonds issued by state and local governments. For GO bonds issued by the state, the authorization must be made through a statewide election. Local GO bonds must be approved by voters within the jurisdiction authorizing the bond. The State and local governments must also seek voter approval for levies of general and special taxes. For both State and local measures, the voter approval threshold depends on the type and purpose of the bond or tax (see Figure 1).

After each statewide election, CDIAC publishes a statistical summary and review of bond and tax measures appearing on state and local ballots. This report, the 26th in the series, summarizes the results of bond and tax measures on the June 5, 2012 Primary Election. In addition, it will also include a comparison of the 2010 and 2012 Primary Elections. The report also contains appendices which summarize the measures by county, region, type of tax/debt and purpose.

In both elections, the highest percentage of proposed local measures was for educational use, and the lowest percentage of proposed local measures was for capital improvements.
