Mr. Field is a Partner in the Public Finance Department of Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP and the Co-Chair of Orrick's School and Community College Finance/General Obligation Bonds Practice Group. He is also a member of Orrick's Leasing Practice Group, Assessment/Mello-Roos Practice Group and Revenue Practice Group.

Orrick, Herrington & Sutcliffe LLP has maintained a substantial practice in the area of public finance for over a century. It has been the premier bond counsel firm in California throughout that period, and has been ranked first in the country for most of the last ten years in total volume of financings for which it served as bond counsel. Orrick's public finance attorneys are located in Los Angeles, Orange County, San Francisco, Sacramento, New York, Seattle, Portland and Washington, D.C. From these offices, Orrick serves as bond counsel for issuers in more than 40 states, several territories and other countries.

Mr. Field has extensive experience, as bond counsel, disclosure counsel and underwriter's, in the financing techniques used by school and community college districts, cities and counties in California. His practice focuses on local governmental infrastructure financing, including general obligation bond financing, municipal lease financing and land-secured financing, as well as tax and revenue anticipation note (TRAN), pension obligation and other post-employment benefit (OPEB) obligation financings. Mr. Field serves as the lead attorney for California School Boards Association annual tax and revenue anticipation note pool, which consisted of 151 participants in fiscal year 2010-11.

Mr. Field has appeared as a speaker at the following conferences and seminars:

- California School Boards Association's Annual Conference (December 2009; December 2010; December 2011)
- Vanir Construction Management, Inc. PM/CM Conference (November 2009)
