Public Benefit Analysis

Student Loan Program

May 19, 2005

Student Loan Program bonds are tax-exempt private activity bonds issued by authorized agencies for the purpose of either financing direct loans to college students and their parents or purchasing already-originated loans on the secondary market. When used for direct lending programs, tax-exempt bond allocation allows lenders to pass on interest rate savings to needy students via low cost financing in the form of lower interest rate than a conventional loan. Needy students are borrowers for whom the cost to attend college exceeds their ability to pay, as determined by their school's financial aid office. The Committee prioritizes awards of allocation to direct lending programs over secondary market loan purchase programs.

The California Debt Limit Allocation Committee ("Committee") is responsible for administering California's annual tax-exempt private activity bond program, known as "the annual State ceiling". For calendar year 2005, California's State ceiling is $2,871,503,920. Each year the Committee divides the annual State ceiling among several bond programs, known as "Program Pools", including the Student Loan Program Pool. For calendar year 2005, the Committee reserved $190,000,000, or 6.6%, of the State ceiling for the Student Loan Program Pool.

The Committee awarded the entire $190,000,000 student loan allocation on May 18, 2005 to the Access to Loans for Learning Student Loan Corporation ("ALLSLC"). ALLSLC operates a direct lending program in California. Overall, the allocation will help to originate approximately 22,000 loans, saving borrowers hundreds of dollars over the life of the loan compared to conventional loans. Approximately $163,020,000 or 86% of the allocation will benefit needy borrowers.
