THE APPLICANT

CalBioGas South Tulare III LLC (the “Applicant”) is a California limited liability company that formed in 2022. The Applicant is a new dairy biogas facility headquartered in Visalia that will process biogas into biomethane to sell to distributors as renewable vehicle fuel (“R-CNG”). The Applicant is able to obtain its manure digester feedstock through its relationship with California dairy farmers.

The Applicant has secured funding for digester related expenses from the California Department of Food & Agriculture (CDFA) for up to $5.13 million in 2023.

The ownership structure of the Applicant is as follows:

The company officers of the Applicant are:

N. Ross Buckenham – CEO
Abdulla Kagalwalla – CFO

THE PROJECT

The Applicant is requesting a sales and use tax exclusion (“STE”) award to build new dairy digesters that will produce dairy biogas at a cluster of 16 facilities located in the county of Tulare (the “Project”). According to the Applicant, it will process biogas into renewable natural gas (“RNG”) and sell it directly or indirectly as a renewable vehicle fuel known as R-CNG, which can be substituted for diesel in a near zero emission CNG truck or bus engine and can reduce NOx emissions by 90% when compared to the standard diesel fuel engine. The Applicant states individual dairies export their biogas from their dairy digester through a small conditioning plant, compressor station and meter out to a collection or a gathering line system that collects the gas from neighboring dairies. The collection system then delivers the biogas to a centralized upgrading plant for processing into a clean biomethane product. When the renewable gas is delivered to a refinery for incorporation into gasoline or sent to a CNG fueling station for use as a compressed natural gas vehicle fuel, it will generate a Low Carbon Fuel Standard credit. The R-CNG will also generate a cellulosic Federal Renewable Fuel Standard Identification Number, category D3 (D3-RIN).
