During the June 8, 2010 Primary Election (2010 Primary), voters considered one state property tax measure (Proposition 13) and 62 local government bond and tax measures. In comparing the February 5, 2008 Primary Election (2008 Primary) to the 2010 Primary, there was no change in the number of local fiscal measures; however, the 2010 Primary had one state fiscal measure whereas the 2008 Primary did not have any state measures. Voters approved 46 of the 63 measures (73.0 percent) in the 2010 Primary, and 49 of the 62 measures (79.0 percent) in the 2008 Primary.

OVERVIEW OF FISCAL MEASURES

Voters were presented with four types of tax measures on the 2010 Primary ballot: property tax, special tax, general tax, and business tax. There was a total of 39 tax measures, of which 30 (76.9 percent) were approved by voters. All but one of the tax measures were for local governments; the other tax measure was Proposition 13 (see Figure 1).

Local governments placed 22 general obligation (GO) bond measures on the 2010 Primary ballot. Voters approved 16 of the 22 GO bond measures (72.7 percent). The majority of these measures was for education purposes, with two measures for public health and safety.

In addition, there were two unique fiscal measures presented to voters: a GO bond/special tax measure for public pools and a groundwater charge measure to construct and improve groundwater facilities. Neither of these measures passed.

As shown in Figure 2, the 63 fiscal measures on the 2010 Primary ballots are divided into five purposes: education, general government, public health and safety, capital improvements and miscellaneous.

EDUCATION: Thirty of the 63 measures presented to voters on the 2010 Primary ballot were for education purposes (47.6 percent), with 22 of the 30 measures (73.3 percent) approved by voters. Of those 30 measures, 20 were GO bond measures and the remaining ten were special tax measures.

Each of the proposed GO bond measures and all but one of the special tax measures was for kindergarten through 12th grade

A Synopsis of Current Events in Public Finance

SEC ADOPTS NEW MEASURES FOR INVESTMENT ADVISERS

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) recently approved new rules to significantly curtail "pay to play" practices by investment advisers.<sup>1</sup> Far reaching aspects of this new rule include prohibitions not only on direct political contributions by investment advisers, but also indirect contributions and/or solicitation arrangements of the investment firm and its employees.

The primary elements of the new SEC rule are as follows:

- An investment adviser is prohibited from providing advisory services for compensation – either directly or through a pooled investment vehicle – for two years, if the adviser or certain of its executives or employees make a political contribution to an elected official who is in a position to influence the selection of the adviser.
- An advisory firm and certain executives and employees are prohibited from soliciting or coordinating campaign contributions from others – a practice referred to as "bundling" – for an elected official who is in a position to influence the selection of the adviser. It also prohibits solicitation and coordination of payments to political parties in the state or locality where the adviser is seeking business.

- An adviser is prohibited from paying a third party, such as a solicitor or placement agent, to solicit a government client on behalf of the investment adviser, unless that third party is an SEC-registered investment adviser or broker-dealer subject to similar pay to play restrictions.

The new rule becomes effective 60 days after its publication in the Federal Register and compliance with the rule's provisions generally will be required within six months of the effective date. Compliance with the third-party ban and those provisions applicable to advisers to registered investment companies subject to the rule will be required one year after the effective date. Additional information is available on the SEC website, www.sec.gov.

FIRST QUARTER STATE TAX COLLECTION ACTIVITY

A report recently released by the Nelson A. Rockefeller Institute of Government stated that for the first time since 2008, there was an increase in state tax collections for the first quarter of 2010. Overall state tax revenues collected in January through March increased 2.5 percent from the same quarter a year ago, the first year-over-year growth since the third quarter of 2008. When adjusted for inflation, total tax collections reflected a 2.0 percent increase. When compared to data from 2008, collections were still below prerecession levels—down approximately 9.3 percent.

<sup>1</sup> The practice of making campaign contributions and related payments to elected officials in order to influence the awarding of lucrative contracts for the management of public pension plan assets and similar government investment accounts is known as "pay to play."

The report cautioned that this increase is attributed to tax increases passed by California and New York last year and not driven by increases in economic activity. Without the collections from California and New York, tax revenues dipped 1.5 percent overall for the remaining states, with 33 states reporting total tax declines during the first quarter. Tax increases in California and New York added approximately $4.9 billion in state revenue during the first quarter. According to the report, states rely on sales taxes for about 31 percent of their revenue, underlying the importance of sales tax collections.

For the same time period, local tax revenues declined 1.1%, due to decreases in property and corporate tax collections.

The report, After Disastrous 2009, States Report Modest Revenue Growth in Early 2010 by Lucy Dadayan and Donald J. Boyd is available on the Nelson A. Rockefeller Institute of Government website, www.rockinst.org.

FITCH RATINGS CREATES BABs WEBSITE

As the Build American Bond (BAB) program has been used to issue $116.6 billion in taxable bonds since February 2009, new investors have taken interest in municipal securities.<sup>2</sup> In an effort to make information on the U.S. municipal bond market and BABs more accessible to these nontraditional tax-exempt buyers, Fitch Ratings created an online resource focused on BABs related information. The webpage was created as a “one stop shop” for potential BABs investors; it includes general information on BABs by sector and Fitch criteria reports.

This webpage is available to registered users of the Fitch website, www.fitchratings.com/BABs. DL

<sup>2</sup> The Build America Bond (BAB) program was created by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act in February 2009.

(K-12) education. Only one measure, a special tax measure, was for college education.

GENERAL GOVERNMENT: Of the 63 state and local ballot measures, 13 (20.6 percent) were for general government purposes. Voters approved 10 of the 13 measures (76.9 percent). The general government measures consisted of sales tax, utility users' tax, transient occupancy tax, and business tax measures. One of the tax measures was to sustain the current tax, whereas the other tax measures were to either implement or increase the tax.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY: Voters were presented with seven public health and safety measures (11.1 percent). Voters approved five of the seven measures (71.4 percent), which consist of two GO bond measures and five special tax measures.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS: The 2010 Primary ballot consisted of one (1.6 percent) capital improvement measure. This local parcel tax measure received 85.4 percent of the vote.

MISCELLANEOUS: Twelve of the 2010 Primary ballot measures (19.0 percent) were for miscellaneous purposes. Voters approved eight of the 12 measures (66.7 percent), the lowest approval rate of all five purposes. Miscellaneous measures consist of: a business tax for a card room, a groundwater charge, flood control, recreation, mosquito abatement, public pools, public employees' retirement, public library services, and seismic improvements.<sup>1</sup>

STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT TAX MEASURES

State and local governments placed 39 tax measures on the 2010 Primary ballot. Twenty-four of the government tax measures (61.5 percent) would have authorized special taxes, and required approval by two-thirds of the voters. Voters approved 18 special tax measures, an approval rate of 75.0 percent. Thirteen of the measures would have authorized a general tax that required a simple majority vote. Voters approved ten of general tax measures, for a 76.9 percent passage rate. The remaining two measures, the state property tax measure and the local groundwater charge measure, also required a simple majority. Voters approved the state property tax measure (85.0 percent), but not the local groundwater charge measure, which only received 32.8 percent of the vote.

The state and local government tax measures can be grouped into five categories by purpose: general government, miscellaneous, education, public health and safety, and capital improvements. Figure 3 and the following descriptions summarize the election results of the tax measure results by purpose.

GENERAL GOVERNMENT: Voters considered 13 general government tax measures (33.3 percent of the total). Proposed measures include levying a business tax, two utility user's taxes (UUTs), five sales taxes, and five transient occupancy taxes (TOTs). All of these measures required simple majority approval. Voters approved 76.9 percent of the general government measures.

MISCELLANEOUS: There were ten miscellaneous state and local tax measures (25.6 percent of the total) on the 2010 Primary ballot. Voters approved 80.0 percent of the miscellaneous tax measures. Two measures (Proposition 13 and a business tax) required a simple majority to pass, while the remaining eight special tax measures required two-thirds voter approval. The passage of Proposition 13 allows property owners to undertake seismic safety-related improvements without triggering a property tax reassessment. The voter approved local measure increases taxes on card room gross revenues. The funds from the six special tax measures that received voter approval will be used for: public libraries, mosquito abatement, and mobility/recreation/arts and culture.

EDUCATION: Ten tax measures for education purposes (25.6 percent of the total) appeared on the ballot. Each of the measures required two-thirds voter approval. Seven of the measures were approved. The funds raised through parcel tax assessments will be used for K-12 school facilities and programs and a community college facility.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY: Five public health and safety tax measures appeared on the ballot (12.8 percent of the total); each required two-thirds voter approval for passage. The four voter approved measures will finance the following: police services, a hospital, firefighters, paramedics, emergency communications equipment, and gang and drug prevention programs.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS: There was one capital improvement measure (2.6 percent of the total). This measure, which received 85.4 percent of voter support, required two-thirds voter approval. Funds from this parcel tax measure will be used for water supply and distribution.

LOCAL GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS

In the 2010 Primary, local agencies presented voters with a total of 22 GO bond measures. Sixteen of the 22 GO bonds (72.7 percent) were approved by voters (see Figure 4). The dollar amount of GO bonds totaled approximately $1.8 billion, with 94.3 percent of that dollar amount ($1.7 billion) receiving voter approval. Local GO bonds on the 2010 Primary Election ballot can be grouped into two purpose types: K-12 education, and public health and safety. The following is an analysis of the different 2010 Primary GO bond measures by purpose.

K-12 EDUCATION: Twenty of the local GO bond measures (90.9 percent) were for K-12 education facilities (see Figure 5). Of the 20 measures, 15 (75.0 percent) were approved by voters. The approved K-12 education GO bond measures ranged in amounts from $2.0 to $380.0 million. Each of the bond measures required 55 percent voter approval.

PUBLIC HEALTH AND SAFETY: As shown in Figure 5, there were two local GO bond measures for public health and safety on the 2010 Primary ballots. Both bond measures required two-thirds voter approval and only one measure passed. The funds from the approved measure ($412.3 million) will be used for earthquake safety and emergency response.

OTHER

There are two fiscal measures that are neither solely a tax nor a GO bond, as described below. Neither of these measures was approved by the voters.

GO BOND/SPECIAL TAX: This ballot measure required two-thirds voter approval, but it received 62.2 percent of voter approval. If this measure had been approved, a $22.5 million GO bond would have been issued to replace, renovate, and construct public pools and a parcel tax would have been levied to finance the bond.

GROUNDWATER CHARGE: This measure required a majority vote, but it only received 32.8 percent voter approval. Funds raised from the groundwater charge would have been used to construct and improve groundwater facilities.

CONCLUSION

CDIAC has published results of state and local government bond and tax measures appearing in Primary, General, and Special Elections since 1987. CDIAC receives election data from clerks and registrars in each county. Figures 6 and 7 provide a complete list of state and local government fiscal measures on the 2010 Primary ballot.

This summer, CDIAC will issue a full report on the fiscal measures considered at the June 8, 2010 Primary Election. # 2010 Tax and Revenue Anticipation Notes

Nova Edwards
CDIAC Policy Research Unit

Tax and revenue anticipation notes (TRANs) are short-term notes primarily used as an interim financing tool to fund an issuer's temporary cash flow deficit. Notes are generally issued at the beginning of a fiscal year, maturing in 15 months or less, in anticipation of receiving tax receipts and revenues at a future date. Revenues from property tax payments and other general fund revenues of a single fiscal year are commonly designated as the source of repayment for TRANs. This article provides a brief summary of TRAN issuances for the first half of 2010.

TRANs are issued individually or through a pooled financing structure. Public agencies will use the pooled financing method to reduce the administrative and issuance costs involved in borrowing money, as well as to reap the benefits of improved market access and lower interest rates achieved through economies of scale.

For the first seven months of 2010, issuers reported 327 proposed and sold TRAN issues ($7.9 billion). Seven different pools reported 255 proposed and sold TRAN issues ($1.6 billion) and individual issuers reported 72 proposed and sold TRAN issues ($6.3 billion). See Figure 1 below. During this period, the number of TRANs reported sold in 2009 was 263, 60.1 percent higher than the 105 TRAN issues reported sold in 2010. Also during this period, the volume of sold TRAN issues in 2009 was 67.1 percent higher than in 2010 ($5.8 billion and $1.9 billion, respectively).

Figure 2 displays TRAN issuances over the past 11 years, categorized by both total volume in millions of dollars and the number of issuances per year. From 2000 to 2007, issuance ranged between $6.1 billion and $5.2 billion, whereas the number of issues steadily decreased from 693 in 2000 to 137 in 2007. However, beginning in 2008, the number of TRAN issues increased from 142 to 327 in 2010 (an increase of 130.3 percent).

Volume remained steady from 2000 to 2004, with decreases in 2005 and 2006; however, in 2007, volume began to rise steadily. In fact, between 2007 and 2010 total volume increased 51.8 percent (from $5.2 billion to $7.9 billion).

Figure 3 compares the last five years of TRAN financings by pools and individual issuers.

Mello-Roos and Mark-Roos Issuers: Local Agencies Must Report Defaults and Draws on Reserves

Statute requires Mello-Roos bond issuers and Marks-Roos pool authorities to report to the commission on defaults or draws on reserve. In particular,

Mello-Roos issuers report either:

- a failure to pay principal and interest on a scheduled payment, or

- a withdrawal from a reserve fund to pay principal and interest on the bond, if the withdrawal reduces the reserve fund below the required reserve amount.

Notification must be made within ten days of the event. The requirement, contained in Government Code Section 53359.5, pertains to any Mello-Roos bond, irrespective of when sold.

Marks-Roos authorities must notify the commission of either:

- a failure to pay principal and interest on a scheduled payment date, or
- a withdrawal from a reserve fund to pay principal and interest on bonds issued by the authority or any bonds acquired by the authority. The commission requires that Marks-Roos authorities report only if the reserve fund is reduced to less than the required reserve.

This requirement, found in Government Code Section 6599.1, pertains to any Mark-Roos bond, regardless of when sold.

Issuers and authorities may submit the required information to the commission through its website, www.treasurer.ca.gov/cdiac/reporting.asp#forms or through the US mail. Please use the form Mello-Roos/ Marks-Roos Draw on Reserve/Default Filing. If you have any questions, please direct them to the Data Collection Unit at (916) 653-3269. DL
