INTRODUCTION

Constitutional and statutory provisions require voters to authorize general obligation (GO) bonds issued by state and local governments. For bonds issued by the state, the authorization must be made through a statewide election. Local bonds must be approved by voters within the jurisdiction authorizing the bond. The state and local governments must also seek voter approval for levies of certain revenue exactions and taxes. For both state and local measures, the voter approval threshold depends on the type and purpose of the bond or tax (see Figure 1).

The California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission (CDIAC) publishes a statistical summary and review of bond and tax measures appearing on state and local ballots. This report, the 43rd in the series, summarizes the results of local bond and tax measures considered by voters during local elections held in 2025 and includes an appendix summarizing the measures by county. A summary of each measure from 1986 through 2025 is also available through DebtWatch.

SUMMARY

- TOTAL MEASURES. Voters considered 27 local fiscal measures; 25 were tax measures and two were combined special tax and bond measures (Figure 2).
- APPROVED MEASURES. Voters approved 17 (63.0%) of the measures.
- PASSAGE RATES. Local general tax measures received strong support from voters with a passage rate of 87.5%, while special tax measures received mixed support and had the lowest passage rates at 47.1%. Two special tax bond measures were presented to voters and passed (100.0%).

GENERAL OBLIGATION BOND MEASURES

There were no general obligation bond measures considered by voters during the 2025 local elections.

TAX MEASURES

- GENERAL TAX - MAJORITY VS. TWO-THIRDS VOTING REQUIREMENT. All 8 of the general tax measures needed only a majority of the vote to pass and 7 passed (87.5%) (Figure 3). If these measures had a two-thirds voting requirement, only 2 of the 8 (25.0%) would have passed.
- SPECIAL TAX - MAJORITY VS. TWO-THIRDS VOTING REQUIREMENT. Of the 17 special tax measures, 3 required a majority vote¹ and 2 passed (66.7%). The 14 remaining special tax measures required two-thirds of the vote to pass and 6 passed (42.9%).
- PURPOSE OF TAXES. The eight general tax measures presented were for General Government and Public Health and Safety purposes. The special taxes were for Capital Improvements and Public Works, Public Health and Safety, Housing and Education. The two special tax/bond measures were categorized as Capital Improvements and Public Works ² (Figure 4).

¹ Simple majority voter approval for special taxes placed on the ballot by citizen initiative has been affirmed by several appellate court decisions.

² Elections were conducted to approve special taxes and authorize bond issuance pursuant to the Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act of 1982.

RESULTS BY REGION

The election results are divided into five regions: Bay Area, Central Valley, Los Angeles, San Diego/Inland Empire, and Other (Figure 5).

- APPROVED MEASURES. Bay Area and Central Valley region voters tied with the most measures (9) presented. The Other region had the next highest number of proposed measures at 5. The counties in the Other region with 2025 measures were Calaveras, Nevada/Placer, Santa Cruz, and Siskiyou. The Los Angeles region totaled 3. Voters in the San Diego/Inland Empire region were presented with only one measure (Figure 6).
- PASSAGE RATES. The Los Angeles region had the highest passage rate at 100%. The Bay Area and Central Valley regions had the lowest passage rates, each with 55.6%.

COMPARISON OF THE 2023 AND 2025 LOCAL ELECTIONS

- COMPARATIVE PASSAGE RATES. The passage rate of bond and tax measures during the 2025 local elections was slightly lower (63.0%) than the 2023 local elections (73.3%) (Figure 7).
- COMPARATIVE NUMBER OF APPROVED MEASURES. Although there was a smaller number of measures approved in 2025 (17) when compared to 2023 (22), the 2025 local elections had significantly more measures requiring a majority to pass (11) than in 2023 (2).
- TYPE OF LOCAL MEASURES COMPARISON. Local special tax measures represented the greatest number of proposed measures on local ballots in both 2025 (17) and 2023 (25). There were no local GO bond measures and two special tax bonds presented in 2025, while in 2023 there were two local GO bond measures and one special tax bond presented (Figure 8).
- SPECIAL TAX MEASURE PASSAGE RATES. The passage rate for special tax measures was lower in 2025 (47.1%) than 2023 (76.0%).
- REGIONAL PASSAGE RATES. In 2025 and 2023, the Los Angeles region had the highest passage rate (100%) (Figure 9).
- PASSAGE RATES BY PURPOSE. In 2023, the passage rate for Education and General Government were the highest (100%). General Government and Public Health and Safety had the highest (100%) passage rate by purpose in 2025 (Figure 10).

Figure 7 provides a summary of the passage requirements for the bond and tax measures appearing on the 2023 and 2021 local elections' ballots.

SUMMARY

Overall, voters were slightly more supportive of the local bond and tax measures in the 2023 local elections (73.3%) than the 2025 local elections (63.0%). The number of measures requiring a majority to pass jumped from 2 in 2023 to 11 in 2025, eight of which were for sales tax increases primarily for General Government purposes and three of which were special taxes placed on the ballot by citizen initiative requiring only a simple majority for passage instead of two-thirds. The 2023 elections had one combined parcel tax and special tax bond that did not pass whereas in 2025 there were two, both of which passed. In 2023, Public Health and Safety measures comprised 46.7% of all ballot measures, however in the 2025 local elections, measures proposed for that purpose dropped to 18.5%. Ballot measures for General Government and Capital Improvements and Public Works purposes totaled 7 tax measures each or 25.9% of the 2025 total. In both elections, the passage rate for the region of Los Angeles remained at 100%. The passage rate of special tax measures was lower in 2025 (47.1%), then in 2023 (76.0%).
