Day Creek Villas Breaking new ground in Rancho Cucamonga

City, National CORE mark 9th affordable housing community

The City of Rancho Cucamonga and National Community Renaissance (National CORE) this month held a groundbreaking ceremony for Day Creek Villas, a stunning affordable housing community for seniors ages 62 and older located along the Pacific Electric Trail.

When completed, Day Creek Villas will feature 131 one-bedroom and eight two-bedroom apartment homes for seniors making between 30 and 60 percent of the area median income, and one additional unit for the manager.

"I commend both the City of Rancho Cucamonga and National CORE for their commitment to providing affordable housing options for our aging population," California State Treasurer Fiona Ma said at the event. "With senior poverty on the rise because of disappearing pensions and inadequate retirement benefits, developments such as Day Creek Villas will become even more critical as we continue to address the housing crisis in our State."

National Community Renaissance, based in Rancho Cucamonga, is one of the nation's largest nonprofit developers of affordable housing. National CORE manages nearly 9,000 affordable, senior and market-rate units in California, Texas, Arkansas, and Florida.

Day Creek Villas will be National CORE's ninth affordable housing community in the city and represents the 27-year public/private partnership that has resulted in more than 1,600 high-quality apartment homes for individuals, families, and seniors.

Home purchase offer some mistakes to avoid

If you are a buyer hoping to be the winning bid, try to avoid making these common mistakes when writing your purchase offer.

Adriana Donofrio
Real Estate

First of all, time is of the essence. If you have toured enough homes, you usually know when the right one comes along. Be ready to pounce and have all of your financial ducks in a row, including bank statements or verification of down payment funds and a recent pre-approval letter.

Don't furnish a pre-approval letter from an obscure mortgage lender. Yes, you may have been shopping loans online and have a certificate from somewhere, but most listing agents are uncomfortable with pre-approvals from out of state lenders or unknown online entities.

Consider using a well-known local mortgage lender or bank for your initial letter of financial qualification. You can always switch after the offer is accepted. Don't be afraid to prove you are qualified for more than your offer price - you want to show financial strength especially if competing with cash offers.

Avoid lowball bids, even if the property has been on the market awhile. Review comparable sales with your agent and make a reasonable offer. A lowball offer that isn't backed up by math or comparable sales is disrespectful and could turn the seller off to continue negotiation.

With new listings, you may not have a chance to raise your offer if a better one comes in. Start strong and hope to eliminate any competition.

Don't let well-meaning advisors sway your offer. You may have a tribe of close friends or family who will have opinions on the property, but trust your Realtor for market knowledge and experience.

And don't forget to sell yourself. If you are lucky enough to meet the listing agent at open house, introduce yourself to put a face behind the offer, but don't ask a lot of nitpicky questions. Show some love for the property and write a personal letter to the seller.

May 19: Chino 94th Annual Pioneer Picnic

The Chino Valley Historical Society will host the 94th Annual Pioneer Picnic at the Chino Community Building Sunday, May 19, with doors open at 11 a.m. and luncheon at 12 noon. The Old Schoolhouse Museum and old Chino Jail will be open 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to visit before or after the potluck luncheon festivities.

The picnic celebrates the past and builds community bonds for the future.

Kerry Cisneroz, host of Facebook page "Chino Memories Yesterday and Today," will take attendees down memory lane with clips and old photos of Chino's past.

Cisneroz has collaborated with Allen P. McCombs, emeritus publisher of the Chino Champion Newspaper, to preserve and expand the archives of pictures and articles about city history.

Attendees to the picnic should bring a main dish, salad or dessert to share. Guests are also asked to bring their own table service and utensils. Complimentary water and coffee will be available.

To learn more, call (909) 334-3278.

"We're thrilled to be able to continue working with the city to address a critical need for affordable housing in our community," said Jeff Burum, Founder and Chairman of the Board for National CORE.

Steve PonTell, President and CEO of National CORE said longstanding partnership with the city has made it possible for us to transform the lives of thousands of residents and create economic opportunities for the community at large.

Ideal location for seniors

The community's location is ideal for seniors, within walking distance of the Day Creek Marketplace and the Estate Winery Marketplace, providing residents access to grocery stores, pharmacies, restaurants, and other local businesses.

Amenities will include a swimming pool, outdoor lounges and fireplaces, and a community center to serve as a hub for resident activities.

National CORE's resident services provider, the Hope through Housing Foundation, will support senior residents with a variety of onsite programs and services that focus on basic needs, physical and mental health, and social connectedness.

"It is a great day for the City of Rancho Cucamonga," Mayor Pro Tem Lynne B. Kennedy said. "I cannot thank enough all of the community members and stakeholders who have worked together to make this development possible, especially National CORE, who continues to challenge misconceptions about affordable housing with the development of beautiful service-enriched communities that truly impacts lives."

Development partners include the City of Rancho Cucamonga, California Tax Credit Allocation Committee, California Debt Limit Allocation Committee, Chase, Hudson Housing Capital, Century Housing, Housing Authority of the County of San Bernardino, and FHLB of San Francisco AHP.

"Day Creek Villas will bring needed affordable housing to the City of Rancho Cucamonga, as well as programs and services that help improve residents' lives and make an impact in the community," said Cecile Chalifour, West Division Manager, Community Development Banking, Chase "We're proud to work with National CORE and are dedicated to supporting local community development."

Sam Ganeshan, Managing Director of Hudson Housing Capital, noted a partnership with National CORE spanning nearly 20 years and more than 20 communities.

"Day Creek Villas is all the more special because it is Hudson's first zero net energy development in California," Ganeshan said. "It is no surprise to Hudson that National CORE is leading the effort to promote both environmental and community well-being through high-quality housing for seniors in the Inland Empire."

Summer/Fall Registration Now Open

The Lions event will be 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 1 at Fremont Academy.

June 1: Lions team up for vision

Two local Lions Clubs are teaming up June 1 to provide free vision screening and eye glasses to those who lack vision insurance.

The Friends in Sight event, presented by Pomona Host and Chino Valley Lions Clubs, will be 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Fremont Academy, 725 W. Franklin Ave., Pomona.

Volunteer eye doctors and optometry students will check vision and write prescriptions. Lions will search through hundreds of eye glasses and fulfill the prescriptions. If there are no prescriptions in inventory, prescriptions will be made and delivered to patients later.

Patients will be served on a first-come, first-served.
